Boulder Media AI Usage Statement

Boulder Media does not use AI for creative content generation currently. All our projects are fully made by artists. If we do find a way to bring about efficiencies in the 2D animation pipeline using AI we will discuss this with clients, producers, creators and staff ensuring we use appropriate AI in a legal and ethical manner to support the Boulder Team's creative output.

We use AI as an aid for certain documents and checking mails, formatting, translation tools etc... but no copyright or sensitive information is passed through any LLMs.

We constantly investigate new technologies and emerging standards in the industry to ensure we maintain operational effectiveness, if we feel AI can aid our artists or any part of the creative pipeline there will be full disclosure, and it will be in a supportive role.
